The TAB notation shows two measures of music. The first measure contains four groups of notes: an eighth note G (8), an eighth note A (9) with an upward arrow, a dotted quarter note B (10) with a downward arrow, and another eighth note G (8). The second measure contains four groups: a dotted quarter note F# (7) with a downward arrow, an eighth note E (6) with an upward arrow, an eighth note D (5) with a downward arrow, and a dotted half note C (0). Above the staff, there are various fret numbers and symbols: '11-10' above the first group, 'X | 0 - 11' above the second group, '11-10' above the third group, and 'X | 0' above the fourth group. In the second measure, there are also fret numbers and symbols: '<12>' above the first group, '5 <12<12>' above the second group, '7 <12>' above the third group, and '5 <12x12>' above the fourth group. At the very end of the second measure, there are three stacked symbols: '<12>', '<12>', and '<12>'.
